

Factor A and your tax return

In 2024, you file your income tax return for the year 2023. You will need to report your Factor A for 2022. How does this work?

What is Factor A?

Factor A is the amount of old age pension you built up in our pension fund in 2022. You need this amount to calculate how much you were allowed to save into an additional pension plan in 2023.

Where can you find your Factor A for 2022?

Your Factor A is specified in the Uniform Pension Overview (UPO) that you received in 2023. You can find your UPO in the secure environment My Pension.

Did you receive multiple UPO's?

For example, because you built up pension rights in multiple pension funds in 2022. Add up all the Factor A amounts for 2022. Report the total amount in your income tax return for 2023.

Did you build up pension in our pension fund only part of the year in 2022?

For example, because you left employment. You will have received a UPO from us when you left employment in 2022, specifying your accrued pension rights. That UPO specifies your Factor A for 2022.
